

Degree: AAS Criminal Justice Technology

SCC will consider awarding transfer credit from any regionally accredited college or university if a grade of C or better was earned within the last five years. Appeals of transfer credit evaluation are considered on an individual case basis. Some courses have very similar content but different course titles and numbers. These determinations are made on a course-by-course comparison. Up to 75% of courses may be transferred towards the degree or certificates.

CWA/NETT Academy and Stanly Community College recognize that on-the-job training is applicable to many of the courses required for the Associates degree. Therefore, with the completion of basic training in your career, you may already have up to 12 credits without taking even one course.

Law Enforcement Officers

With the completion of basic training in your career, you may already have up to 12 credits without taking even one course.

Correctional/Detention Officers

Officers or agents who have completed 150 or more hours of basic training and are certified by local, state, or federal government agency or a branch of the military can receive credit for CJC 141*

Basic Law Enforcement Training (BLET)

Students successfully completing BLET will receive credit for the following Criminal Justice courses: CJC 131, CJC 132, CJC 221, and CJC 231. These students must be eligible for BLET certification

This is an unofficial document to track your status, but can also be used to help members identify all previous training and educational experience that may be relevant. If you are interested in transferring credits, or experience, please fill out and fax to us at 202.434.0695. Once this is done, Stanly Community College will assist you in reviewing the information and identifying what classes/credits can transfer toward your degree, certificate or diploma.
